

Project Title: Emerging Aboriginal Scholars Summer School

Project Summary (150 words maximum)

We would like to continue the implementation of a five week summer school where aboriginal high school students will be:

- Taking courses at UBC
- Working with members of the university community
- Discussing issues relevant to aboriginal cultures
- Exposed to career possibilities.

Aboriginal students currently attending high school will come to UBC 5 days a week for five weeks to take courses in math and English in the morning; three afternoons a week they will be working with a member of the university community in an area of their choice and they will be paid $100 for 7.5 hours of work a week for their work.

Thursday afternoons they will meet in a circle with Elders and various members of the aboriginal community to discuss a variety of issues regarding aboriginal cultures, and learn about career possibilities among other things.